SUBJECT: FINAL PRINTED MATERIALS - Results of Out-of-Cycle Legal Compliance Revisions

The legal compliance review of the following material(s) has been completed:

Title of Program: Daily Standards Practice for Reading/Language Arts, Levels 1-8, Gr. 1-8, c. 2004 & 2005

Congratulations! The final printed materials submitted with corrections have been found in compliance with social content requirements of Education Code section 60040-60044, 60048, 60200.5, as well as State Board of Education guidelines, that are outlined in the document, Standards for Evaluation of Instructional Materials with Respect to Social Content. These guidelines ensure that materials portray democratic values, cultural pluralism, and the diversity of our population by emphasizing people in a variety of positive roles. This approval is for social content only and does not constitute state-adoption.

The legal compliance process does not include a review of the educational content; that review is the responsibility of the county office, district, or school that may be purchasing non-adopted materials. Any misrepresentation of this approval will result in disqualification of your material. Please note that if at a later date issues arise involving the social content of your approved materials, we may require additional reviews and possible changes may be required.

Materials that pass the legal and social compliance review will be included on the list of Legal and Social Compliance Approved Out-of-Cycle Instructional Materials on the Department's website at the following location:

<http://www.cde.ca.gov/ci/cr/cf/lc.asp>

(Approved Materials will remain listed for six years).

Districts may purchase materials from this approved list using either Proposition 20 Lottery Funds (estimated to be $29 per ADA in 2006-07) or any Instructional Materials Funding Realignment Program (IMFRP) funds remaining after districts have purchased their required instructional materials. For more information on the IMFRP please see the CFIR website at: www.cde.ca.gov/ci/cr/cf/imfrpintro.asp.

If you have any questions, please contact Nancy Plasencia of my staff at (916) 319-0450.

Thank you.
